Separate PO I: OK'd By Official

An independent and seperate post office for Daly City was practically assured this week, following upon a visit here by Norman Abrams, assistant post master general.

Abrams said he was "definitely in favor of a seperate post office here and said such a move was economically sound" for the post office department. He also mentioned that the rapid growth of population in Daly City makes it necessary for an independent office here.

At present all mail is routed first through San Francisco, the Daly City office being merely a branch of that system.

Abrams said all he had to do was sign Daly City's application for its own post office and that the order would become effective in from 35 to 45 days. Mail trucks now operating through the San Francisco office will probably be assigned for exclusive in Daly City, he added.

There is also a possy that, with establishment of ly City office, between five and t personnel will be added t local department.

The Daly City Chamb Commerce, instrumental in ing the attention of post office itives, indicated that establish of a separate office here would up

FIREHOUSE & RESERVOIR CONTRACTS DELAYED

Awarding of contracts for two important projects, the new firehouse and Westlake reservoir No. 1, was postponed by the council Monday night in order that "adjustments" be made with the low bidders.

Low bid on the reservoir, $88,741.30, submitted by the Hart & Hynding company, was more than $20,000 over estimates made by City Engineer Edwin Smith.

Smith recommended to the council Monday that decision on awarding contract be deferred until some "cost-reducing adjustments" could be made.

The Hart & Hynding firm has agreed to extend their time limit on the contract awarding deadline, which is normally 15 days after opening of bids.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy said more time was also needed to discuss alternate construction plans for the new firehouse. Low bidder on this project is the W. A. Monroney company, who submitted a figure of $76,950.

Installation of the alternates listed in the Monroney bid would raise the bill approximately $2610, Kennedy said.

Parking Group To Be Formed

Establishment of a Daly City Parking Authority was unanimously approved by the city council and the Chamber of Commerce at a joint meeting on the parking problem Monday night.

After hearing Robert Hunter, chamber member, point out in detail the need for off-street parking and outline alternate plans that might be adopted, the council instructed City Attorney Frank Blum to draft an Ordinance creating the authority.

Approximately a dozen merchants from the Top of the Hill area attended the meeting.

Recommendations made by the Chamber included:

1. Establishment of a parking authority.
2. Use property below city hall for parking lot.
3. Allow diagonal parking on the north side of Wellington avenue.
4. Construct a cross-walk on Mission street to give merchants on the west side of the street more traffic.
5. Transfer money out of undistributed surplus in the general fund to an off-street parking fund.
6. Purchase and/or lease land for of-street parking.

Councilmen Paul Green said that the Wellington parking was definitely "out" and that the Mission crosswalk might conflict with the state highway department's plans for the traffic islands.

Some discussion was held on the merits of floating a revenue bond issue to finance the off-street parking. However, Mayor Anthony Gaggero said probably not enough revenue would be realized to make the parking self supporting.

The council asked Tony Ricci, police commission secretary, for his view on the parking, but Ricci said he hadn't even been sent a copy of the Chamber's survey.

Gaggero said it was merely an oversight, and said he hoped the commission could be of assistance in combatting the parking problem.

The Mayor congratulated the Chamber for their report and added that "I feel we can work something out from it."

One of the merchants present, Rudy Wolmuth, of Sprouse Reitz, asked the council "where do we go from here?"

Gaggero said the next important step would be the formation of the Parking Authority.

THE TOWN RECORD

By MONTE DAYTON

Professional jealousy? Some schnook meandered into one of the WILLIAM LAGOMARSINO dwellings last weekend and removed a medicine cabinet, chrome towel bar, a door knob and assorted other bathroom equippage amounting to about 80 bucks valve in all.

Found by police at the scene of the crime was a business card belonging to a member of a rival real estate firm.

Aw, come on now boys, is competition really that keen or are toilet contrivances just getting scarce?

LEE BAGRASH, local apothecary (that means druggist, rolled the hard way) is as zealous a University of California alumnus as we've seen in a long spell.

After he prepares his notions he places them in capsules, one half of which is gold, the other blue. Prescriptions prepared in this form don't do any more than the ones in the regular color scheme, unless you're a Cal fan, in which case their effect is hearty, inducing a state of chronic optimism.

Sorrowful PAPPY WALDORF, take heed.

City elections aren't until spring but already the harbingers are showing themselves.

Inside stuff has it that an incumbent, who doesn't come up on the ballot this time, will not be throwing any bouquets in the direction of a certain council member who will face the electoral test in April.

Retired water superintendent ARTHUR BODIEN just couldn't stay that way very long.

After lounging in retirement a whole month, it was too much for him, and he's gone and got himself a job with the North San Mateo County Sanitation district.

It's only from 8 to 12 in the a.m., but Arthur says, "I'd go nuts if I didn't do something."

A lady, who wishes to remain in anonymity, has made quite a stink about the stink emanating from the local dumps last weekend.

Wondering, as THE RECORD does, about such smelly problems, she asked if the county board was planning to do anything about the smog, stink and such.

Only time, the Good Lord, and elections will tell, Mam.

The Jefferson high alumni party weekend last was a doozy, we are given to understand.

Conversation was devoted to Early Times and many other highly drinkables.

The wee hours of the a.m. found the revelers still hard at it and looking forward with anticipation to the next such post-graduate enterprise.

WHITTAKER CHAMBERS and his microfilm-pumpkin caper has got nuthin on Daly City.

MRS. PATRICIA DE MATTEI, 340 Second avenue, who always takes a bunch of gourds from her backyard each Halloween and makes "Pumpkin" heads out of them for the kiddies, got a surprise this week.

On the shell of one of the gourds could plainly be discerned the figures DGX2AX, which, as any fool can plainly see, is a prolateriat code meaning "whatinhell is this new capitalistic propaganda known

Jefferson Hi Alumni Reunion A Success

The Jefferson high school alumni shindig held Saturday night at Green Hills Country club was acclaimed such a success that the alums plan to hold the event every five years.

Some 143 former Jeff students gathered at the club for dinner, dancing and reminiscing about the "good old school days."

Alumni in attendance were those from the first graduating class, 1925, to 1934.

Marc Worst, one of the two members of the first class, '25, flew up from Los Angeles to attend the function.

Members of the original teaching staff in attendance were Neil O. Best, the school's first principal; Henry Kleemeyer and Mrs. Marian Earl Kleeymeyer and Dorothy Staib Pendergast, teachers.

It was the first time in history such an event had been held for the Jefferson alumni.

In charge of the function were Helen Kennedy Reinhart and Irene Smith, assisted by Gladys Oakley Kennedy.

Jefferson graduates who were not contacted regarding the reunion, should notify Irene Smith at the Mission Bell motel so that their names will be on the mailing list for future alumni activities.

STATE MAY GIVE IN ON MISSION TRAFFIC ISLAND

As a result of a City-State highway department meeting Tuesday, Daly City may get traffic "duck-ins" at every intersection on Mission, when the state constructs a traffic island on that street.

The local city council last week voiced loud disapproval of the state master plan, which called for only two "duck-ins," layovers for left turn traffic, on the 1.4 miles of traffic island proposed for Mission street.

The city engineer has drawn up plans which greet with Daly City approval, and they will be officially adopted in resolution Monday night.

This plan calls for traffic layovers at every intersection.

City Administrator Dan Andersen said the highway department would be forwarded the resolution on Tuesday.

He explained that they may accept or reject the Daly City plan, but in view of Governor Goodwin Knight's interest in the problem, would probably react favorably to the Daly City specifications.

STEEL WORKER TAKES LIFE WHILE AT WORK

The body of Frank J. Sturla, 61, of 25 Cavour street, was found this week in the South San Francisco plant of Bethlehem Pacific Steel corporation, where he worked.

Police said he had hanged himself during the night from a step leading to an overhead crane in the yard. A suicide note, blaming illness, was found on another step.

ALL SMILES are these members members of the Chamber of Commerce who were notified Tuesday by Assistant Postmaster General Norman Abrams (fourth from right) that Daly City is in line for a post office of its own. Vandals Hit Again At Colma School

A Jefferson Elementary district school was hit by vandals again this week.

Harry Aronson, business manager for the district, came upon the most recent act of vandalism Sunday morning when he visited the Colma school.

One of the classrooms had been broken into and the usual scene of overturned desks, chairs, scattered paper, ink-stained walls, blackboards, floors and cabinets was found.

Aronson described the room as "a shambles."

A week earlier a building located in the center of the construction area at the Colma school was entered and $400 worth of tools taken.

The thieves entered in the same manner, by breaking a window.

NO SCHOOL FOR KIDS ON NOVEMBER 25

Good news to elementary school children was announced Thursday at the regular meeting of the Jefferson elementary district board of trustees.

Because of an in-service training program to be held for teachers Wednesday, November 25, school will not convene on that date.

The board also suggested that the hour previous to each of their meetings be devoted to discussion with parents who have problems. This would cut down interference with their regular agenda, they said.

In other business, the board had bad news for third grade students, who will begin attending school until 3 p.m. each day, instead of 2:30 p.m.

DALY CITY HITS 17.3 OF QUOTA IN UNITED CRUSADE

With 17.3 per cent of its quota reported yesterday, Daly City ranks among the top cities in San Mateo county to date in the United Crusade drive.

A total of $2,050.50 has been raised in the Daly City drive towards the $11,829 goal.

NATIONAL GUARD SEEKS LOCATION OF UNIT IN DC

Plans for establishment of a National Guard attachment here were considered by the city council at their meeting Monday night.

In a National Guard letter sent to the recreation commission, a copy of which was forwarded to the council, it was pointed out that Lt. William Whalen, a member of the Guard, resides in this community and might be able to help establish the organization here.

The Guard letter said "the population of Daly City is large enough to support personnel needs and the transportation is excellent."

"A National Guard unit will enhance the prestige of the Community," the letter further explained.

In order to at first "foster community approval," the Guard communication recommended that a platoon (45 men) be located here and later developed into a company.

Space for the Guard activities might possible be found available in the community center, the letter continued.

Under a lease with the state, a "nominal rent" ranging from $75 to $125 a month might be arranged the letter pointed out.

LAWRENCE TO FACE SENTENCE MONDAY

Ralph Edward Lawrence, 31-year-old former Doelger advertising manager convicted of swindling the firm of several thousand dollars, will appear in Judge Edmund Scott's Superior court Monday at 1:30 p.m. for sentencing.

At that time the probation department will have their report ready and will make their recommendation.

Lawrence pleaded guilty to the charges of making up fictitious bills against the firm and forging the checks.

DUGAN PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO CHARGES OF DISTURBANCE HERE

Edward Francis William Dugan, 53-year-old San Francisco painter, pled not guilty in municipal court this week to charges that he was disturbing the peace and drunk in a local tavern.

He asked for jury trial, to be held December 1.

In other local cases at the muni court, Vern Jack Morton, 40, also pled not guilty to a charge that he stole a wedge of cheese from a Daly City market.

He will go before a jury on November 19.

Willits Street Fire Does $3000 Damage

A fire at 438 Willits street last Thursday did an estimated $3000 damage, Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy reported this week.

Donald Phelps, owner of the home, was painting when he was notified that the building was burning.

He rushed inside, thinking his four-year-old son was sleeping in a bedroom, but discovered his wife had taken the boy shopping with her.

He suffered superficial burns about the scalp.

A three-carat diamond ring and a wallet containing an undisclosed amount of money were also thought lost to the blaze, but firemen later uncovered them in the rubble.

Kennedy said he believed the fire might have been started by the child's playing with matches.

The Phelps home and furnishings are insured, Kennedy said.

CLEON B. SMITH (SMITTY to his many friends), pressman at THE RECORD for the past ten years, passed away suddenly Tuesday of a heart attack.

An asset to this newspaper, both as a good guy and an employee, Smitty's death comes as a severe blow to us and a loss to the profession of a master craftsman.

More than 40 years in the game, a press was to Smitty as a patient is to a doctor. He knew what made his presses tick.

A CLEAN CARBURETOR

The carburetor on an automobile should be cleaned by a competent mechanic about every 5,000 miles to insure maximum performance and fuel economy, advises the California State Automobile Association. Solvents which clean carburetors effectively without dismantling them makes this a quick and relatively inexpensive operation.

Katherine Dunham Dance Troupe At The Golden Gate

The famous Kathérine Dunham Dance Troupe comes to the stage of the Golden Gate Theatre in San Francisco on Wednesday, October 28th, for a limited engagement. This unique aggregation of 24 singers, dancers and musicians plus the incomparable Katherine Dunham herself is being offered at popular prices on vaudeville stage for the first time in its career. Miss Dunham and her group have just concluded a nation wide concert hall and nightclub tour where the tab, for the lucky ones who could afford to see her, would run from $4.80 to $7.50.

Born in 1910 in Joliet, Illinois, Miss Dunham has danced her way from the pews of the local Methodist church—at eight she organized a dance recital with her Sunday School classmates for the benefit of the Christian Endeavor—through the torrid mysteries of Haitian voodoo and primitive ceremonials in Jamaica, Martinique and Trinidad to Broadway stardom (in "Cabin In The Sky" and others) and a solid footing in the firmament of the international entertainment world.

Her mother was a school teacher; and her father, though by day running a cleaning and dyeing establishment, played the mandolin and guitar and taught his son and daughter music. As a youngster, the enamored of the dance, Miss Dunham was good at her studies, was class poet, and occasionally a paid contributor to Child Life Magazine. At 18 she entered the University of Chicago, majoring in Anthropology; and, in order to finance her way thru college, she organized and taught a dancing school in an old delapidated barn in Chicago's teeming South Side. She formed the first of her own dance troupes, the Katherine Dunham Dance Group, which gave its first public performance, a program known as "Negro Rhapsody," at the Chicago Beaux Arts Ball in 1931.

In her current program Miss Dunham and her troupe do, among others, a series called "The Brazilian Carnival," the "Barrelhouse Shimmy," "The Cake Walk," "Incantation," variations on an Afro-Cuban theme; "Southern Folk Dance" and so on. Other dancers and entertainers in the troupe include Vanoye Aikens, Wilburt Bradley, Frances Taylor, Ural Wilson, Ricardo Avalos and Irma Obermyer. Choral members of the group are Rosalie King, Gordon King, Jeannette Williams and Victor McUnhu. Miss Dunham has done all her own choreography and staging and the settings and brilliantly colorful costuming are by John Pratt.

THE NAME'S THE THING

As is consistent with the thinking of all who forever hide their abysmal ignorance by tacking the name "progress" and "civic betterment" to every idea for which they have no better description, there exists an element in this city which claims that the municipality must ever suffer in mediocrity because its name is DALY CITY.

This is the element that must have a "view," a "plaza," a "grove," or some other saccharine sweet pomposity hanging fore or afte on the name of its city to make it ring prettier in the ears of their relatives half-way across the continent.

These crusaders, devotees of the hackneyed, the common place and the do-gooder type philosophy, would sterilize this city, along with any others that fell victim to their howls of "progress and "civic betterment."

This city, like thousands throughout the land, acquired its namesake by the altogether virtuous means of usage. John Daly, pioneer resident, was an important man here after the turn of the century.

Whether his industry was benevolent or aimed in a mercenary direction, his name was of such weight that the citizens of the community thought it worthwhile to tack on the name of their hometown.

Since the time when 2000 individuals, ranging in occupation from crooks to clergy, grubbed out an existance in this tent city the area has grown more than ten fold.

And the people that made it grow were residents of Daly City.

So some of the roiginal settlers made their living placing book on dog races, fist fights, by borrowing on their neighbors' prosperity or by maintaining a house of questionable integrity.

So that's Daly City!

It's any city, for that matter. It takes a lot of living and a lot of years before a city is mellowed, and when it has, its citizens should be well proud they live there and equally jealous of its name.

San Francisco, the name that's whispered in reverance throughout the world now for that nebulous thing they call "atmosphere," was just another name when its pioneers christened it. But, like many other historically mature cities, the name had a meaning for its settlers and they intended it to stay that way.

Because the name of Daly City may have been connected in the spacious past with such "uncivic" enterprises as racing, procuring, or throwing rocks, the "civic" cult would have the name changed, thus supposedly prettying bad into good and instilling an infectious piety over its entire population.

"Daly City" may not have the proper tonal resonance, it may not read well on a traffic ticket and it is certainly not euphonious, but it's the only one in the world and, for our money, that's going some.

SAN MATEO COUNTY & THE MAJORS

There's some talk going around about working for a multi-purpose stadium in San Mateo county.

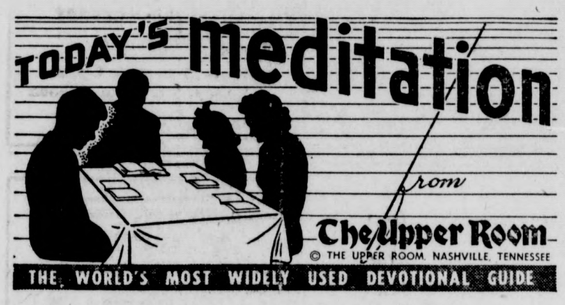
Naturally, one of the important athletic events San Mateo county would attempt to corral would be Major League baseball.

Despite all the obstacles San Francisco sportswriters, PCC officals and other noteworthies have invented, the fact is that the big leagues would be glad to allow a franchise here if they had a park big enough to allow sizeable, i. e., lucrative crowds.

The time is ripe, while the Two Big Cities in California are making much noise, but doing little that is constructive in the eyes of Major League officials.

If San Mateo county could beat these two areas to the punch, by building a multi-purpose stadium, there is a better than even chance the majors could be attracted here.

It'd be the best thing that ever happened to this county, and wouldn't it be fun to hear the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce yowl?



My help comes from the Lord, who made heaven and earth. (Psalm 121:2. R.S.V.) Read John 12:44-50.

Many years ago I was passing through a "dark night of the soul." One evening I went to bed badly worried. I slept fitfully and dreamed. In my dream I found myself on a stairway cut in the rock between two great boulders. Above my head rose a sheer stone wall. Below my feet was a fearful abyss filled with foaming waters. I looked desperately for a way out of the place.

As I began to arouse from the terror of my dream, I remembered that there was someone who was able to save me — God. This thought brought joy and comfort, and great relief. I fully woke up and laid all that had tormented me on my Saviour. Immediately the tempest passed away and calm possessed my very soul.

God has never failed to comfort those who come to Him for help. He is always ready to attend to us at any hour or under any circumstances. We need only to have confidence in His love, His immeasurable mercy, and His almighty power.

PRAYER

Our Father, we thank Thee that Thou hast always comforted us in the tribulations of our lives. Cause us to show our gratitude by living our lives in service to Thee because of the love we have for Thee, through Christ our Lord. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

In God is my strength.

GOOD DRIVING COMPANY

Drivers who are alert and attentive, considerate and courteous, always willing to yield the right of way and to refrain from jostling others, are safe drivers and make good driving company, declares the National Automobile Club. Have you checked on your driving lately? Do you make good driving company?

My Mad World

By Leonore Brewer

Having nothing better to talk about this week, it had been my intention to discuss "The Robe," Twentieth Century-Fox's latest super-colossal triumph of mediocrity, but as I sit in front of my typewriter, marshalling what few thoughts I have on the subject, it is clear that there aren't going to be enough to go around.

When a book is made into a film, it is customary to compare the two. Remembering some of Hollywood's past efforts to translate books into movies, I could take a chance and announce loftily that the book's message had been lost in the furor surrounding the debut of a new film technique which permits more extras than ever before to mill aimlessly in front of too-obviously painted backdrops. This is one of those vague generalities that doesn't really say anything that my conscience just won't let me use. You see, I never read Lloyd C. Douglas' book, nor ever intend to.

At the stage in life when one reads anything and everything with scant regard for subject matter, I read this same author's "Magnificent Obsession." A little later midway through his "White Banners," weary of the sticky twaddle which saturated these works, I laid it aside and was never tempted by any of his subsequent books. That more than ten million copies of "The Robe" were sold (with how many readers per copy?) might lead some to suspect that my decision was a mite hasty. If you belong among this group you can now rejoice that my punishment, slightly delayed, has come upon me, as I am now unable to make an impressively erudite comparison between the book and the film. This would be good for at least half a column and would come in handy today.

As an introduction to a new technique which has all the promise of an almost dazzling future, the picture is overly long and is hampered by the type of characters one always meets in the customary portrayal of decadent Rome facing the challenge of of Christianity. In a movie fairly dripping with self-sacrifice and nobility of motive the one bright spot is Jay Robinson who as the mad Caligula enlivens the otherwise treacly proceedings by frothing at the mouth at the slightest provocation. His characterization of the Emperor who once declared his horse a consul dominates the story, his nearest competitors being a chariot race through the forest and of course the giant screen itself.

It is doubtful if this is what the author intended, but that's the way it is.

NEWS COLUMN FOR VETERANS

Q. My husband, a World War II veteran, died recently. As long as he lived, he never had any kind of disability. Would I be entitled to a VA death pension, since my yearly income is less than $1,400?

A. No. The law requires that a World War II veteran must have been entitled to disability compensation, pension or retirement pay at the time of his death. Or, if he served 90 days or more, he must have had a definitely ascertainable service-connected disability when he died.

Q. I am now on active duty, and I am covered by a free $10,000 indemnity. If anything happens to me, would it be possible for my family to collect the $10,000 in a lump sum?

A. It would not be possible for your beneficiaries to receive a lump sum payment. Under the law, payments are to be made in 120 equal monthly installments of $9.29 per $1,000 of indemnity.

Q. I've been in service since 1941, and I expect to be discharged in the near future. Would I be allowed to train under the World War II GI Bill, even though the cut-off date passed in 1951?

A.—Yes. The July 25, 1951, cut-off date applied only to veterans discharged before July 25, 1947. You would be permitted to start training under the World War II GI Bill, but you should keep in mind that the program ends for nearly all veterans on July 25, 1956.

Q. I am planning to take an on-the-job training course under the Korean GI Bill. I understand the law contains a $310-a-month ceiling for job trainees. Does that mean my employer may not pay me more than $310 a month?

A. There is no limit to the amount of money your employer may pay you, while you are taking job training under the Korean GI Bill. However, if your training wages plus your GI allowance exceed $310 a month, VA must scale down the GI alowance accordingly, under the law.

GI Says THE RECORD Helps Him Brighten The Days Away From His Hometown

Gentlemen:

I have been receiving THE RECORD for almost two months now and I think its time to write and thank you. It's difficult to express how much it means to hear of your friends when you are away from home.

I used to read the letters of men in the service, thanking you for sending them the paper, but, somehow, it just doesn't sink in until you are actually away from home and your friends for awhile. It's then that any kind of news from home is certainly welcomed. I want to take this opportunity to thank you sincerely for sending me THE RECORD. It certainly helps to brighten my days in the service.

Sincerely,
Bob Kalinin,

In The Past

TEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Thursday, Oct. 28, 1943—Buildings quivered in Daly City as the San Francisco Bay Area was rocked by a sharp earthquake for nearly three minutes Monday night shortly before 10 o'clock, but no serious damage was reported from private residences or city water and street departments.

Many residents believed the jolt the most severe felt here in a number of years. However, it was taken calmly and the police reported no deluge of frantic telephone calls.

It was a week for theft, according to reports on file at the Daly City Police department. Everything from a piggy bank to a pickup truck was snitched.

On Friday at 5:30 p.m. Mrs. Benckendorf, 219 Los Banos avenue, called for an officer. August Benassini responded and found that someone had entered the apartment and taken a small child's piggy bank with $3 in it.

Charles Eldridge, 525 Bellevue avenue, reported his 1930 Ford sport coupe stolen from Bosworth and Milton streets in San Francisco.

Election of officers will take place at the Monday night meeting of Crocker Chapter No. 382, O.E.S., at Masonic hall.

There will be a short program. Committee includes Maude Hanselman, Margaret Darragh, Louise Eliasen, Margaret Clark, Eleanor Carle, Lucie Beyer and Evelyn Penzel.

Last initiation of the present tem is slated for Monday evening. Mathilde Heeringa, Jean Strachan, Jean Jeffrey, Mary Murray, Grace Nowak, Brighty Goodie and Alma Ammerman are in charge of arrangements.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, Oct. 28, 1938 — Gayest and most colorful Halloween carnival ever to be held in Daly City will be staged here next Monday evening. Every local resident, especially children and their friends, are invited to attend the affair.

Cleo Miller of the Daly City American Legion Post is general chairman.

Peggy Zugar, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Zugar of Vista avenue, was guest of honor at a party given last Friday in celebration of her ninth birthday. The table was prettily decorated in Halloween colors, with a huge cake as a centerpiece.

Hillcrest Circle No. 143, UAOD, met Monday evening and officers were elected for the coming term. Plans were completed for installation ceremonies which will be conducted next meeting. A large class of candidates will also be initiated at that time. Minnie Bernardi and Mate Baker were appointed on the memorial committee which will hold services in Druids' Temple on November 4.

Mrs. Laura Pescaro and Mrs. Violet Haupti wish to thank the many friends who assisted and attended the regular monthly whist on Monday evening.

NEWS NOTES FOR AMERICAN VETS

Veterans whose earning power is restricted by a permanent total disability—even though the disability did not result from military service—may be entitled to financial assistance from the Veterans Administration, according to Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer of San Mateo county.

"Such assistance," Granger said, "is called a pension, to distinguish it from compensation, which is paid for disabilities resulting from actual military service." He explained that compensation is paid regardless of a veteran's other sources of income, while a pension is paid only if a veteran faces financial hardship without it.

A pension is payable to a permanently and totally disabled veteran without dependents if his annual income is $1,400 or less. If the veteran has a wife and/or children, he may have an annual income of $2,700 and still draw a pension.

The rate, Granger explained, is $63 per month, increased to $75 per month on attainment of 65 years, or after continuous receipt for ten years.

The veteran must have had at least 90 days active service, during wartime, and his discharge must be other than dishonorable.

Veterans of the Spanish-American War may, under certain circumstances, draw higher monthly payments. In addition, veterans who are so completely disabled as to require constant aid and attendance may draw pensions up to $129. The person attending the veteran may be a member of his family.

For complete details about compensation and pension payments, veterans and members of their families are invited to drop in at the Veterans Service Office, in the Courthouse, Redwood City.

Navy Announces Mailing Deadline

Deadline date for mailing Christmas packages to men overseas will be November 15, the Navy Department announced today.

Due to the anticipated increase in the volume of mails over previous years, there is no assurance that parcel post mailed from the United States after November 15 will be delivered before the holiday, the announcement said.

Parcels to more remote areas should be mailed by November 1.

As a result of the reduced capabilities of military airlift, air parcel post to some areas, particularly the Far East, may be diverted at ports of embarkation to surface transportation, the Navy said.

Safety News From Your Local Police

How good are you at judging the speed of an automobile? The chances are you won't do so well unless you have had experience and training.

Far too many people get into trouble on the highway because they don't realize how fast they are traveling. Consequently they find they haven't space or time to escape disaster.

An easy way to tell how much ground a car covers in one second is to take the speed shown on the speedometer and multiply that figure by one and one half, or, just add one half the figure to itself. Either way it comes out almost mathematically correct. For instance, a car travelling 40 miles per hour goes 60 feet in one second. At 55 miles an hour it goes 77.5 feet and a car travelling that fast requires 287 feet in which to stop. Also at 55 miles per hour the chances of someone being killed in case of accident are 1 to 12. At 65 miles per hour the chances are 1 to 6.

Smart motorists learn these facts about speed and stay out of trouble. They know that trying to save a few minutes may sometimes lead to disasaster.

Accident Report

Total: Thirteen accidents.

Breakdown: Thirteen auto-auto; one injury.

When we came West, we found out...
Gas and electricity are cheap in California
says Mrs. Stanley Billett, of Bakersfield, shown with her children
How P. G. & E. low rates save the Billetts money
The Billetts' P. G. and E. bill for a recent month was $15.05
In their former home the same amount of gas and electricity would cost $32.20

"Living in California is a wonderful change for us," says Mrs. Billett, who moved West with her husband and children in 1951. "We enjoy the extra room . . . all the trees and flowers . . . the delightful informality. And because gas and electricity cost so little here—far less than where we used to live—we now enjoy the convenience of several extra household appliances."

Yes . . . gas and electricity are a real bargain in California. P. G. and E.'s combined rates are actually lower now than in 1938. So let low-cost gas and electricity do more of your work . . . give you added leisure.

YOUR NEIGHBORS AND MINE

By Betty Brush

Hello Neighbors:

This is the weekend of the ghosts and goblins. Tomorrow night all the young, and some of the not so young, fry will be out in full force to trick or treat one and all. This, plus the definite chill in the weather, makes us realize that the holidays will be with us soon. If there is going to be any more happening in our town then than there is now, I fail to see just how it can be. There is so much doing that I wonder if anyone just sits and does nothing.

Heard from the wandering Harlans, FOOFIE AND BUD, this week and they are really having themselves a time. They have been to Canada, New York, Pennsylvania and Florida since we last heard from them. If we think the traffic problems are bad at home we should just try New York for a change. One can't even find room to park a car there let alone stay long enough to see the sights. From their letter I'll take Daly City for the weather. At least one doesn't have to get up at 4 a.m. and keep the motor of the car running in order to keep it from freezing up. They are now on their way through the southern states and glad of the warmer weather. There is a hello to all of us from them and they'll take "our town" over all of the east any day.

ERICH DEIBEL of Bellevue avenue is in Waco, Texas, on a business trip. He should have been home awhile back but seems that the cold there hasn't agreed with him and he came down with the flu. He is better now and his wife, ALBERTA, will be really glad to see him come home as three months is long enough to be a widow and not like it.

Another of the neighbors known to many of us hasn't been too well lately. ED EMERSON, father of one of the neighbors, has been quite ill for the past week but we are betting that he'll pull through. He always has and it seems like he always will. He is another of the folks that leaves a definite imprint on all who are privileged to know and love him. Get well soon, Ed, and stay well this time.

Surprises are one of the nice things in life. One was held in the honor of MRS. EVE HOBBS of Risel street last week to celebrate her birthday. Eve had expected just her husband and son to come and spend the evening with her but they had different plans. Papa Hobbs had gone and gotten a turkey and had it all stuffed and cooked and taken to her son's house and of course Eve just had to go there on some pretext that evening. Was she surprised! There she walked into a nice family diner plus birthday cake and friends who had gathered in addition to the family to wish her a happy birthday. Same from all of us, Eve.

Items of Interest

Seems that the grown-ups have their fun on Halloween too. MR. WILFORD MILLER and wife PHYLLIS will attend a party tomorrow night in which all the neighbors of their block will come dressed as a comic strip character. This bunch gets together each year for this occasion and this makes the fourth year that a good time was had by all. They say that you are only as young as you feel and at this rate this bunch will never grow old. Have fun, folks.

More of the neighbors have moved. MR. and MRS. H. MARKGRAF of Theta avenue have moved to their new home on San Jose avenue. Naturally JUDY, DAVID and the cat went along, too. Congratulations and all the best wishes for happiness to the Markgrafs in their new home from all the neighbors.

How people do grow up right under your nose. MR. and MRS. DONALD LUNGHI of Vale street have a new son who tipped the Fairbanks at 7 lbs. 3 ozs. The young man who has been named DONALD GREG has an older sister, JANICE, to help welcome him home. Don Lunghi went to all the best schools in Daly City and the last I remember seeing him, he was just another of the guys at Jeff. His wife, the former Lorraine Remmer, also went to Jeff.

Being a grandmother is one of the nicest things that can happen to a person. When one is a grandmother for the second time naturally one is twice as excited. MRS. DOROTHY STEWART of Knowles avenue heard the news that her son, WILLIAM BERNZOTT and wife, FERN, are the proud parents of a new son, GARY. Of course their daughter, LINDA, was most pleased as she had ordered a baby brother.

Something new is being added to each home nowadays. It is a nice bright sticker with a red torch announcing—I Gave. There will be folks at our doors if they haven't been there already. Many of the husbands donate where they work. This year, according to reliable information, if you give at work in SF it also includes San Mateo county. Their goal is one per cent of your annual salary and that is to cover all agencies. The Red Cross will have a drive next year but if you have given to the UNITED CRUSADE, you will not be asked to donate. The best thing to do is get your sticker and display it prominately. There is so much good done for so many by your donations that even if you can't donate the one per cent, whatever you do give will be not only graciously received but well used to the utmost good of others—even some of your neighbors and mine are depending on us. If you are missed, the names of those in charge have been printed in THE RECORD and all you have to do is get in touch with any of them.

Servicemen

PVT. PAUL A. MITCHELL is now Cpl. A. Mitchell. At present Paul is at the very front of the United Nation's lines with the motor pool. He writes that it is starting to get mighty cold now and winter clothing has been issued. Paul is another of the boys who will spend Christmas at faraway places as he won't be eligible for rotation until March or April.

A/2c LOUIS E. MERLO, son of MR. and MRS. LOUIS MERLO of Vale street is at the present time on Okinowa. He has been there for the last two months as a radar technician. This will be the last Christmas he will be away from home as he has less than a year left out of his four year enlistment. Lou graduated from Jeff with the class of '49 and like so many others most of his friends are away from home and spread all over the world.

P.F.C. DONALD CECCHI, son of MRS. ETHEL GERRAMORSI of San Joaquin avenue, was heard from this week. He is with the U. S. Army at Fort Lewis, Washington. At the present time he is in the Quartermaster Corps and likes it fine . He was home last month for a furlough and like the rest of the fellows spent most of his time looking up his pals who weren't at home.

One of the boys is home. BILL BRANDT of the U. S. Marine Corps is home on that well known vacation the service gives the fellows before sending them on an all expense paid tour of the world. Just where Bill will go he will find out when he reaches Camp Stoneman. Best of wishes from all the neighbors, Bill, and don't forget to write.

It's fun receiving mail when it comes from all over the world. Frankfurt, Germany and A/2c ROBERT MARTIN were heard from this week. Bob writes a very nice descriptive letter, mostly about the town and it's people. Like everywhere else at this time of year, the weather is the main subject. Cold and more cold. Seems the people of Frankfurt like our boys and do all they can to keep them from being lonesome. Sometimes it seems that the best ambassadors of peace are the boys that we send to these different countries. Neighbors are neighbors—no matter what country they happen to live in.

The women behind the boys don't forget either. The ladies of the EAGLE'S AUXILIARY 1848 went Wednesday of last week to the psychiatric ward of Letterman Hospital. They have never missed a monthly visit in the last three years. They are now allowed to visit the patients which is unusual and which the boys appreciate very much. They plan a Christmas party for these boys and have quite a project underway. They are making utility bags which will contain the usual shaving lotion, candy, games, socks and any other items that the fellows of this particular ward will be allowed to have. Any neighbor, Eagle or not, desiring to get in on this project will be most welcome. All one has to do to find out is to ask one of the ladies and they will be welcomed gladly.

Here is one lady to whom an orchid should go. MRS. LEONORA O'NEILL, who is chairman of the Veteran's group of the Auxiliary, has for a long time been the sole member of a one woman committee. She gathers up pocket books and mails them to servicemen in all parts of the world. She not only gets the books but mails them at her own expense and very few people ever knew it. This is one good deed that should make us all sit up and ask the question—What am I doing for your boys and mine?

Items of Interest

MR. and MRS. ROBERT VOLKMAN of Market street have just added a number three son to their family. Boys are such fun, folks, why not add two more and have a basketball team. Congratulations to the family and the new baby.

MRS. ALICE COMBS, MRS. SHIRLEY MILLER and son, BOBBIE, have just returned home from a week's vacation spent in Drytown, California. While there they visited Mrs. Combs' mother so she could have a peek at her great-grandchild. Welcome home, neighbors.

Let's call this the "Serenade of the Howling Dog." Neighbors in the Knowles and Santa Barbara avenue area have been treated to one of the most unusual serenades known to man. Why waste time on T-V, radio or just plain housework, when one can, with no effort on our part and for free, be treated to a symphony of the most blood-curling yowls and howls one would want to hear day or night. Maybe some people enjoy it—I'm sure the majority do not! How the owner of the canine Mario Lanzas can stand it is beyond the rest of us. We all hope they get larngytis soon and for a long time.

The Whist held by Hillcrest Circle No. 143 U.A.O.D. last Monday night was a huge success. The chairman, MRS. EVE HOBBS, was ably assisted by MRS. ELEANOR CAMERON and MRS. FLORENCE YOUNG. This was Eve's last whist and she would like to thank all who helped her make it such a success.

Well, neighbors, another week's news has wended its way through the typewriter and I am ready for the phone to ring and get another week's for you. Each week there is some new neighbor who calls up and I have a new friend. That is fun. Remember, this is your column, you make the news and it is your doings that the folks like to read. The phone is still PL. 5-6482 and I'll be listening for you. 'Bye Now.

Jobs Mothers Will Hold Phone Whist

On Tuesday of last week the Mothers club of International Order of Jobs Daughters, Bethel 198, met at Mrs. Golladay's home, 544 87th street, Broadmoor.

Calling the gathering to order was Lorene Gardner, president.

A telephone whist will be held today (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. Turman, JU. 5-0291, Mrs. Bates, JU. 4-2338, and Mrs. Heagney, PL. 5-5263. Those interested in entering the game should call one of these numbers and information will be given.

The children are also getting ready for Halloween. They are in the process of completing paper bag masks, making a Halloween Mural and drawing pictures of what they will wear on this big eventful evening.

We have elected our new president of the class for the month of October. He is Richard Swanson and Joseph Dragoman is our new vice president.

Mrs. Oberlander, Grade Two

Gary Mendoza won first prize in a Television "Name The Planet" contest.

Our class took a field trip to the construction area of Westlake. We watched the men building the new homes.

We tied with Mrs. Schober's class for the PTA pennant. Later we won first place for having the largest percentage of parents in the PTA.

Our three Monarch caterpillars changed into chrysalids. Two weeks later they emerged as butterflies. We let them fly out the window to Monterey.

We are glad to welcome Alvaro Rivas into our class.

Mrs. Lamp, Grade Two

The second graders in Mrs. Lamp's room are exercizing their inherent right to choose and vote for their own class leaders. They have set up their own qualifications and nominate their candidates. Even the use of secret ballot is safeguarded. These class officers are chosen every month. In September Jill Pfotenhauer was president and Vicki Holmgren was vice president. This month Randy Scott is president and Carole Gallman is vice president.

Plans For Serra Hi Fashion Show Are Gaining Momentum

As November 20 approaches, plans for Serra high school's evening fashion showing at the Fiesta site are gathering momentum. Augmenting her list of aides, Mrs. Charles Fracchia, general coordinator, has recently named Mrs. James Prickitt to be in charge of the models, and Mrs. Michael Carella to work with Mrs. Joseph Sweyd as ticket chairman. Among the other peninsula matrons assisting in essential capacities are Mesdames William Hickey, Norman Sullivan, Irving Redmond, Thomas Fee, Willis Silverthorne and Edward Trucco.

As an added highlight to Mademoiselle's fashion presentation, Mrs. Carella has announced a most exciting feature—the awarding during the evening of a knit-to-order dress and several hand knit stoles.

Proceeds from the evening's entertainment will go towards the purchase of needed equipment for the high school. Letters are now in the mail urging members and friends of Serra auxiliary to reserve the date. Reservations may be made thru Mrs. Joseph Sweyd, 307 Avila road and Mrs. Michael Carella, 255 W. Santa Inez, both in San Mateo.

CHIEF PROBATION OFFICER ADDRESSES HILLSIDE PTA ON JUVENILE PROBLEMS

John Cowgill, chief probation officer of San Mateo county, was the guest speaker of the Hillcrest unit of the Colma school. Cowgill showed a film of the rehabilitation program and the activities at the Hillcrest Home. Six out of ten of the children come from broken homes. Hillcrest is not a jail but a clinic for delinquents. They try to make it as homelike as possible by teaching the boys to garden and make cement walks and other constructive activities. The girls are taught to cook and to sew. They are in need of yardage for the sewing classes, so if anyone is interested in donating yardage it will be greatly appreciated.

There are three main divisions which include the adult department, juvenile traffic and the delinquent cases. There were 900 cases of delinquents last year. The neglected and abandoned youngsters are taken there also. The need for more housing is evident in the fact they are housing 56 boys of all sizes in rooms that should have only 22. There are three full time teachers who assist the children in keeping up their classroom work.

The Juvenile Hall has three functions which are the custody, observation and the treatment of the child which takes approximately three to four weeks.

The Hillcrest Home is located four miles behind Belmont and is situated on 20 acres of ground.

The Hillside unit plans to assist the Colma PTA in the Halloween party which is given the youngsters of the community every year. The party will be held at Castle Hall on Mission Street in Colma on Halloween evening.

OLD GLORY POST VFW MEMBERSHIP DRIVE TO BE LAUNCHED

Old Glory Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, is preparing a membership campaign to be launched in the near future.

The Post will attempt to reach by mail, and door to door contact, all veterans in the area who are not members of a veteran organization.

A recent project of the post was to help send a local youth to summer camp. A recent letter from the youth received by the Post read, "I want to thank you for making it possible for me to have one wonderful week at Camp this summer. I will be glad to repay you in any services needed."

WOODROW PTA TO OFFER KIDS PARTY

The Woodrow Wilson PTA will hold its annual Halloween party tomorrow (Saturday) evening at 7 p.m. in the multi-use room at the school.

There will be two movies shown and children-participation games will be held.

Main event for the evening will be a parade in which the youngsters will show their costumes. Awards will be given for the prettiest costumes, the funniest, and the most original.

Refreshments will be served and it is hoped that all of the children of the school will be able to attend and help make this a "safe and sane Halloween."

Legion Auxiliary Hosts For Rainbow Luncheon

A Rainbow lunch, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, Broadmoor Unit No. 824, will be held Wednesday noon in the Broadmoor community center, 87th and White streets.

Admission for adults will be 75 cents, 25 cents for children.

The menu will consist of cream turkey, salad, dessert and coffee.

The Auxiliary has extended an invitation for all persons interested to attend. For further information, contact Mrs. Hirschberg, PL 5-2943.

Northern California processors annually accounty for 80 per cent of the State's half-billion-dollar canning pack.

Income from patients failed by $8,500,000 to cover expenses of non-profit hospitals in California in 1952.

Westlake Unit, S.F. Women Voters, Meets Nov. 15th

The newly organized Westlake Unit of the League of Women Voters of San Francisco will meet at the home of Mrs. John Eiler, 32 Lake Forest Drive on Thursday, November 5; at 12:30 p.m. Coffee will be served and the meeting is open to all interested women.

"Congress and the Budget" is the topic to be discussed. Members will participate in an evaluation of the procedures used by the U. S. Congress in making the 72 billion dollar Federal Budget. The subject is of particular interest to American women since they pay so large a share of the tax monies collected.

Serving with Mrs. Eiler in organizing the unit are the Mesdames Ralph Bender, Lionel Farber, Irvin Silberstein, and Stanley Hertzstein.

THE "POKEY" DRIVER

A safety-minded and usually law-abiding motorist is often goaded into taking chances to get around a slow-moving automobile on a fast, modern highway. Don't "poke" where traffic ways are built for rapid movement, urges the California State Automobile Association. Poking is as much an accident potential on such highways as excessive speed.

Couple Celebrates Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hedvall, 376 Santa Barbara avenue, celebrated 50 years of wedded life together last week at a family gathering held in Redwood City.

The couple were married on October 17, 1903, at a little church on 21st street in San Francisco. A Swedish Lutheran minister performed the rites that were to inseparably join the Hedvalls.

In 1906, shortly before the quake that destroyed San Francisco, the Hedvalls purchased a house in Daly City on Santa Barbara avenue, where they have lived together since 1907.

The Hedvalls have one son, Arthur, who resides in Daly City, and another, Raymond, who makes his home in Redwood City.

Eleven persons gathered for the festive golden anniversary occasion and the Hedvalls reported "a wonderful day."

Mrs. Hedvall is a native of Finland, while her husband was born in Sweden.

The couple courted for five years before their marriage.

COLMA EAGLES, STEELERS SET PACE IN RECREATION FOOTBALL LEAGUE

The second week of the Recreation Department Football league found the two top teams maintaining their pace last week.

The Colma Eagles beat the Colma Rams unmercifully, 56 to 6, with the passing of Bill Brown and the receiving of Paul Tapia and Ino Patron outstanding.

The Colma Steelers played an even contest with the Colma Jugs until the final quarter, when they pushed across two scores to win, 25 to 13. The winning tallies were recorded by Jack Lewkowitz, who took a pass from Charles Bridges, and a 75-yard scurry by Dick Joy. These two teams will pair off again on November 7.

A defense battle was waged between the Colma Redskins and the OLPH gang, with the former winning, 12 to 6.

Interceptions by Gary Huston and Jim Gustafson set up the scoring opportunities for the Redskins.

Saturday marks the mid-point of the season and the third league game for all teams.

Jeffs Seek Third Win Today Against Mateo

MENLO-ATHERTON CLUB GIVES INDIANS ROUGH GOING IN LOSING, 19 TO 12

With two successive, though not impressive, wins in their belts, the Jefferson high Indians will go after San Mateo's scalp today at 3 p.m. on the local football field

A 19-12 victory Friday over a stubborn Menlo-Atherton team now gives the Jeffs a 2-1 record, placing them third in league standings behind Burlingame and Capuchino.

The team Jefferson will face today, tied for fifth in PAL rankings, is not overly strong but the local eleven will have to ward off the fumbles to gain their third win.

In last week's contest the Indians fumbled four times, with recoveries going to the opposition on each occasion.

Two of the fumbles were cashed in on by the Menlo Bears for scores.

If it weren't for the return of Wally Honeywell, on the injured list for the week previous, the Indians might have dropped the encounter.

The fleet back scored two of the touchdowns and compiled a 5.4 yards average per carry during the contest.

The Indians tallied first in the initial quarter, with Honeywell going eight yards into the end zone after an 86-yard drive. John Gerrtsen's extra point try was good.

A miscue by Jeff's Bill Butler on his own 25-yard line offered Menlo their opportunity and they pushed across a score via the ground, missing the point after TD.

In the second quarter the Indians moved 67 yards in five plays to score again. This time Geertsen's boot was no good.

Fumblitis again hit the Indians. Quarterback Ray Rosa muffed one on his own 39-yard line, and the Bears made good again, with Bruce McAlilster plunging over. The conversion was missed and the Indians held a 13-12 edge.

A third-quarter attack by the Bears was thwarted when Rosa intercepted on his own 39-yard line.

Jefferson's defense then tightened and, in the fourth quarter, after the Bears were forced to kick, Honeywell ran the ball deep into Menlo territory on a 46-yard jaunt, assisted by neat downfield blocking on the part of Jack Thur, Mike Cloonan and Ed Gallagher.

Del Hamann provided the clincher by scoring on a 14-yard end sweep.

Rosa, flashy aerialist for the Jeffs, completed six out of 14, good for 100 yards.

On one of the more spectacular plays of the game, Rosa hit Don Delbon in the flat, where he was trapped by the Bears secondary, promptly lateraled to Honeywell, who mowed on down field 30 yards before being stopped.

San Mateo lost its game last Saturday to City College of San Francisco, 32-13, with City College ahead throughout the game. Scoring for San Mateo were Darrell Bullard, end from South San Francisco, who took a thirty-yard pass and raced an extra 40 yards for the score, and Bob Innes, quarterback, on a 35 yard broken field jaunt through the entire City College eleven.

Umpire's Call In Ninth Gives Auto Outfit Win

An umpire's call, described as "lousy" by the losers, cost Sarto A. C. a ball game Sunday as they lost, 2 to 1, to Don Gilmore in AA league play at Marchbanks park.

The athletic club was up in the ninth frame with three men on base and a man at bat with the count three balls, no strikes.

The fourth pitch "nearly hit the batter in the head," according to Sarto representatives, but the umpire called it a strike.

A hush fell over the audience and then quite the contrary reaction set in on the part of Sarto A.C.

The disturbance was quelled without physical damage to any of the players, but it is reported that the Sarto gang will not tolerate this unidentified ump at any of their future contests.

Harry Cronin, manager of the athletic club and one of the more ired participants in the afternoon fray, said his club will seek a rematch against the Gilmore gang.

The Don Gilmore outfit, tallied both their runs in the first inning on three hits and an error.

Chucking for the Sartomen was Coburn, who allowed eight hits, walked four and struck out 10.

Third baseman Johnny Olcese led Sarto hitting with two in four attempts.

Sarto A. C. is now tied for second place with Don Gilmore in AA standings with two wins, one loss apiece. Pomona tile, who Sarto will face Sunday at Marchbanks park, leads the league with three wins, no losses.

INDIAN 20S DUMPED 2 STRAIGHT

Share PAL Cage Lead With SSF, Burlingame

Two straight losses, both by slim margins, moved the Jefferson high 20s basketball team out of undisputed first place and into a tie with South San Francisco and Burlingame.

The three teams now each have 5-2 win-loss records.

A much-improved Carlmont team stopped the Indians Tuesday, 28 to 26, gaining revenge for the 48-17 drubbing the Jeffs administered to them in early season.

Only consistent scorer for the Jeffs Tuesday was Dick Kalinin, who hit for six field goals and 12 points.

The little Indians established themselves in second place with a 5-2 mark by winning easily over the Carlmont crew, 33 to 14. Lee Poston sunk five field goals and a free throw to head the local scoring with 11 points.

In last Thursday's play at South San Francisco the wins were split the same way for the Indians, with the 20s dropping pa 42-41 decision to the Warriors, while the 10s were whipping SSF, 32 to 21. It was the first league loss for the Jefferson 20s.

Ron Anguillo and Dick Kalinin contributed 14 and 8 points, respectively, for the 20s losing cause.

Pacing the local 10s was George Rocchi with ten points, while Poston added nine.

Jefferson's cage teams were scheduled to meet Capuchino here yesterday (Thursday).

TWO DC POLICE QUALIFY IN PISTOL COMPETITION

Two Daly City police were among the nine qualifying Sunday for marksman at the San Mateo County Police Pistol team shoot held at the Ray Ottoboni range in Colma.

Jim Welsh and Gerald Schaeffer fired 229 and 246, respectively, out of a possible 300 score to make the honor group. A tally of 220 is necessary to attain rating of marksman.

The Daly City and Colma police forces were among seven represented.

The top nine qualifiers in Sunday's shoot will make up the first and second teams when the county pistol group competes with other teams.

Others qualifying as marksman were: R. C. Ruhl, 259; P. Shaffley, 246; L. Padredii, 240; S. Stagnaro, 248; J. Wilson, 260; P. Noniziam, 263; V. Brewer, 233.

In charge of Sunday's shoot was Captain Ray Ottoboni, assisted by Bill Martin. Ottoboni said the officers were "at least 50 per cent improved" in their shooting. He thanked Police Chief Roland Petrocchi and other city chiefs for their cooperation in making the shoot possible.

The county pistol team will shoot again November 8, with the winning city receiving the perpetual trophy.

DEFENSE CASE IS MADE FOR UN BY DA CANDIDATE

A spirited defense case for the United Naitons and the promise of America's future in world leadership through the United Nations was presented by Peninsula attorney and announced candidate for the office of district attorney, Roy W. Seagraves, in an address before members of the Redwood City Kiwanis Club at noon today.

Seagraves, who last month revealed that he will seek the district attorney's post in the 1954 elections, today expressed theories based on extensive personal interest and study of the United Nations and foreign policy.

He vehemently attacked the growing menace of the American people's return to isolationist thinking; thus threatening the very purpose of the United Nations as a world society of nations under law.

Seagraves cited recent known indications of America's separation from the allied nations. Under the newly coined diplomatic word "unilateralism," isolationism is appearing in the United States policy abroad where it seems that America associates compromise with appeasement. This, according to Seagraves, brings smiles in the Kremlin, and an opportunity for Communist exploitation.

"If we demand too much we are likely to obtain nothing except ultimate war and disaster. We must never appease, but we must remain willing to compromise, Seagraves stressed.

"The isolationist 'go-it-alone' policy is making the Russians laugh, and when the Russians laugh, it is time for Americans to think, and think fast," he continued. "Understanding will keynote the greatness of the world with a leadership that can meet changing conditions and make the most of fresh opportunities.

"The time is long overdue for every American to make an effort to know and understand the rest of the peoples of the world for themselves and not measured by ourselves," he reiterated. "The people of other countries are not potentially under developed Americans and never will be, but can become most useful to us and most friendly by remaining themselves."

"World unity and peace will be measured in terms of advantage for the human community and not in terms of military advantage. It will be the triumph of the heartbeat over the drumboat, and there is the reason and unquestionable proof of the need for a United Nations," Seagraves stated.

Borrowing courtroom protocol, Seagraves dramatically summerized the case for continued faith in the future of the United Nations, charging the American people with the responsibility of insured interest, understanding, patience and vision in their quest for peace and security. Herein lies the answer to world war in world law, backed by justice and popular consent, the end result of success for the United Nations.

DRIVING SCHOOLS AND INSTRUCTORS TO BE LICENSED

Automobile driving schools and driving school instructors will be regulated by law beginning March 1, 1954, reports the California State Automobile Association. Under the new law, both schools and instructors will be required to obtain licenses from the Department of Motor Vehicles to conduct their activities.

Before licenses will be issued to them, driving teachers for such schools will have to meet certain requirements as to ability, knowledge and training to show fitness for their work. Driving schools also will have to comply with proper standards.

The license fee for an instructor will be $10 and for a driving school $50, with the licenses valid for four years unless suspended, cancelled or revoked.

The CSAA points out that those exempted from this new chapter of the Vehicle Code will be high schools and other accredited educational institutions conducting driver training courses, automobile dealers or their salesmen giving driving instruction without charge, and employers giving driving instruction to their employees.

SACRAMENTO—Fishing in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta, where one and-a-half million striped bass and half-a-million salmon are caught each year, will not be greatly affected by large diversions of San Joaquin river water into the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's huge new Contra Costa Steam Plant near Antioch.

This is the conclusion of Senior Engineer James E. Kerr of the Bechtel Corporation, who has just completed a 17-month study of the problem for PG&E. Kerr's report has been published by the California Department of Fish and Game, which cooperated in the project.

A new fish collecting device, coupled with fish handling methods developed in a year-long basic research program, is responsible for the utility company's cleaim.

The huge steam-powered generating plant merely "borrows" the river water to cool its condensers, Kerr pointed out, and very little goes up in steam. Because of this, one of the company's main concerns was to protect the very small fish while the water was passing through the plant.

Careful study indicated that the tiny bass fry and larvae, though extremely sensitive in some ways, could easily withstand the 10 degree temperature rise which occurs in the huge condensers. Armed with this information, it was only necessary to make certain technical changes in the cooling system in order to pass the little fish right on through unharmed.

Rescuing the larger fish, which were stopped by the plant's screens but which could not fight their way back to the river against the swift current in the intake, was solved with perfection of the fish collector.

Like a great aquatic vacuum cleaner, this device sucks the fish up from in front of the screens and deposits them safely far away. One tagged daredevil made the trip all the way around to the intake again, for another free ride. Kerr estimates that survival of the fish picked up by the collector is almost 98 per cent.

The field work which led to these developments was supervised by William O. Cheney of PG&E in consultation with Alex Calhoun of the Department of Fish and Game.

The information gathered, while primarily concerned with the problems of the Contra Costa plant, has also led to improved design in the fish protection arrangements at PG&E's companion steam plant at Pittsburg, and should be of value to all similar users of Delta water, Kerr believes.

TERMINAL ISLAND—A hitchhiking marine fisheries biologist has accounted for 459 yellowtail which were tagged and returned to the Pacific during the month of August.

Project Leader Robert D. Collyer of the State's yellowtail study, bummed a ride on a recent Department of Fish and Game sardine investigation cruise off the coast of Baja California. While crew members of the M. V. "Yellowfin" went about their routine sardine survey during the night, Collyer hooked and tagged his yellowtail in daylight hours.

As supercargo on a recent tuna research trip, Biologist Collyer tagged another 74 yellowtail. Several southern California party boat operators and private boat owners also have volunteered their equipment and services to the Federal Aid yellowtail program.

ONE-WAY STREETS

Drivers entering large cities should always be on the look-out for the signs and markings designating one-way streets, warns the California State Automobile Association. Failure to do so will inevitably find the visiting motorist facing a charging volume of motor vehicles bearing down on him.

Blue Gum Is Exotic Tree That Looks Like Native

Dominating the California landscape is an exotic tree which visitors find it hard to believe is not a native, so much does it appear to be at home here. This is the common, "Blue Gum," or Eucaluptus Globulus, native to Southeastern Australia, Tasmania, etc. Perhaps our state does look less barren than it would in the absence of this tree, but it is scarcely suitable for a small garden, however, the genus Eucaluptus includes well over 600 species and varieties, of which some do possess considerable ornamental value. Unfortunately many of the finest of these often colorful species are not sufficiently hardy to be grown here, but one of the finest, now in flower in the Strybing Arboretum, will succeed in most Bay Area gardens. This is Eucaluptus ficifolia from Western Australia, and is a fairly small tree with persistant, fibrous bark, leaves resembling those of the Rubber-tree, whence its specific name, and brilliant clusters of flowers. In local gardens these flowers vary somewhat in color, if the plants are grown from locally collected seeds, but in West Australia the species has brilliant orange-scarlet blossoms; our tree was grown from West Australian seeds. In planting this Eucalyptus, it should be given a warm, sheltered, frost-free location. Young trees need to carefully be supported by adequate staking, and if obtained in cans should have the mainroot running around in a circle, for such plants are almost certain to blow over.

While there are many other Eucalyptus with colored flowers, the only ones proven to be hardy here, aside from E. Ficifolia, are E.erythoronema and E. sideroxulon rosea.

Oleander Shrub Is Colorful Evergreen

The graceful oleander shrub is a colorful, scented, flowering evergreen that requires little attention and is adaptable to private gardens, parking areas and drives.

Having beauty, endurance and demanding only a minimum of water, oleanders have been widely adopted for state landscaping purposes in California. Travelers on our many state highways and freeways—particularly through the interior valleys and in Southern California — often comment on these brave shrubs that bloom vigorously from June until late September.

While oleanders can be grown in nearly all parts of the state, they grow most successfully in the drier sectors, since they need sustained heat to flower most abundantly.

In the warmer sections they develop from six to twenty feet in height and often in excess of 10 feet in circumference—their entire expanse becoming massed with large clusters of red, pink, buff, white, salmon and rose flowers in both single and double forms.

Specially nurtured oleanders can be obtained from many California nurseries in five gallon and larger containers which are easily set into the ground. Like most container developed shrubs, they should be planted the approximate depth of the container. Plant them alone or with large-leaf foliage shrubs. Always allow adequate space for bush expansion, unless you desire a hedging effect.

Oleanders require good drainage, but are not very particular about soil composition. However, California Nurserymen point out that it is always profitable to plant shrubs in rich light loam to which chemical fertilizers or manure have been added. Faulty drainage often can be improved by placing layers of ashes, rock or manure below the shrub roots.

Gardeners are cautioned not to over-water oleanders. They prefer a dry atmosphere both above and below ground. After their third year they will likely require heavy pruning, as they often develop leggy limbs.

Winter Garden Can Be Bright With Evergreens

Traditionally, the golden brown world of autumn with its accompanying scent of burning leaves in crisp fall air, marks the end of gayly colored gardens for the year. But this need not be so! Your winter garden can be just as lively as its earlier counterparts—thanks to the bright evergreen pyracantha shrub which develops masses of flame colored berries for the holiday season.

Although pyracanthas—or Fire Thorn as they are often called—are spotlighted during the fall season, they are actually year 'round performers, beginning their blooming cycle early in June and completing it in late February. The Pyracantha first offers lacy clusters of scented white flowers, followed by small green berries which finally become the large vermillion holiday specimens late in September.

Many varieties loaded with huge berries are on dispiay in California nurseries now—ready for the coming holiday season. They range from three foot height, five gallon container size on up. It is always advisable to select nursery-balled pyracanthas for planting, as established garden stock have difficulty surviving up-rooting.

Many gardeners feel they can obtain the fullest effect of pyracanthas' brilliant slashes of color by training them against contrasting white, green or gray walls. They are easily trained as espaliered bushes on wall lattice frames, as hedging, or as tubbed plants. Adaptable to every landscaping situation they are equally suitable for large or small gardens. They grow rapidly and the many species range in height from six to 15 feet. Colors include red, orange, red-orange and yellow.

Pyracanthas are especially successful located in sunny or partially shaded southern exposure areas which are sheltered from cold north or northeast winds.

Like most shrubs, the pyracantha is not fussy and will grow in nearly all soils. But rich, moist, well-drained loam that has been cultivated and fertilized beforehand will make it possible for the pyracantha to provide dividends over the years in abundant growth and fruit bearing.

To train them as wall shrubs, be sure to distribute the branches evenly and naturally over a large area. Be sure, too, that strong branches develop at the base of the shrub first, as unrestricted upward growth creates weak stringy stems that ae awkward in appearance. If possible, fasten the woody branches with copper wire, as it weathers well and blends into the landscape.

Planted alone, under windows or as hedge shrubs, pyracanthas will need light pruning to shape them into the desired form.

Although the red and orange berries retain their compact form and color for months, you will have to protect them from raiding birds. Dusting with sulfur is usually successful in discouraging these onslaughts.

Ask your nurseryman about the varieties of pyracanthas most suitable for your particular garden needs. Every winter garden should be decorated with these holiday shrubs—which in turn are obliging enough to be adaptable to every garden!

Council Accepts Deed For Westlake Park Site

A resolution accepting deed from Henry Doelger for the Westlake park site was approved this week by the city council.

The property, located near Lake Merced and Alemany boulevards, has been purchased by the city at a cost of $20,000, half of which has already been paid the Doelger firm.

Taxes on Lots 33, 35 and 36 in the Crocker tract, owned by the Jefferson Elementary School district, were canceled in another resolution passed by the council Monday.

November 15 Is Deadline For Xmas Overseas Packages

L. R. Toms, Superintendent of the Daly City Branch Post Office, today reminded local residents that Nov. 15 is the deadline for mailing Christmas packages overseas to servicemen and civilian government employees. Such packages should be packed securely, addressed correctly, and include no perishables, he added. Christmas cards may be sent overseas by airmail until Dec. 1.

"The earlier we get Christmas packages and cards in our post offfice, the better delivery service we can give," Toms declared, "and that applies to domestic as well as overseas mail."

An additional suggestion for overseas packages and letters came today from T. F. McGuigan, 1953 Seal Sale chairman for the San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Association: "To send that extra touch of familiar tradition to your serviceman overseas, be sure to decorate his gifts and cards with cheerful Christmas Seals.

Although the Christmas Seal campaign in San Mateo county will begin on Nov. 16, the day after the deadilne for overseas package mailing, seals may be purchased before that time at the TB Association's office, 115 S. Ellsworth avenue, San Mateo, at one dollar per sheet of 100 seals."

Christmas Seals are the only means of support for the activities carried on by the local TB Association; which include the 17,500 free chest X-rays taken by the mobile unit in San Mateo County so far this year.
